A) Read the following text and the answer the questions:

Sir David Attenborough is a world-famous British filmmaker and naturalist. This means he is a scientist who studies animals and how they behave. He has written and presented many TV shows about animals and our planet in the last 60 years. These programmes help viewers learn more about the natural world.

David was born in London on 8th May 1926. This is the same year that Queen Elizabeth II was born! He was the middle of three brothers. David loved to collect fossils, stones, and other natural objects as a child. He collected and sold newts from a local pond to a university nearby when he was 11 years old. He went to the University of Cambridge when he was 19 years old. He learnt lots about rocks, animals, and the environment.

David started to work in television when he was 26 years old. This was unusual because not many people owned a TV at that time. Even David didn't own a TV. His first TV show was called 'Animal Patterns' where zookeepers brought real animals from London Zoo into the studio. His show called 'Wildlife on Channel One' was on TV for 28 years. David has shown many people the dangers of plastic pollution to our environment and spoken out about climate change. David continues to speak out about helping our planet and he inspires many people all over the world to do the same.
